May 2016

Dear Customers and Friends,

This is the third in our series of catalogues reflecting changing market conditions in the bookselling world. As in the previous two catalogues, you will find here drastic reductions in the prices of many of our titles, this being the result of several market trends: increasingly, people are using the internet rather than consulting books to answer their gardening questions; secondly, the availability of online digitized books means that information can be obtained without the need for actually owning a copy of a particular title; and finally, the impression given by the search results of numerous bookselling websites that there are scads of copies of any book one would want at any time one would want it have all contributed to a general depression in the prices for many titles. As a result, we have reduced our prices across the board and are now issuing this third in our series of "bargain priced" book catalogues.

We hope that you will enjoy reading through the catalogue and picking out some nice items for yourself. Featured in this catalogue are several early 19th century encyclopedias, a number of early 20th century Japanese flower arranging titles and a section on language of flower books. There are also some nice runs of early 20th century periodicals such as Gardeners' Chronicle, Home Garden, Horticulture Illustrated, Park's Floral Magazine and Real Gardening. Most of the titles included in this catalogue are available only in single copies and so to avoid disappointment we suggest you order as early as possible.

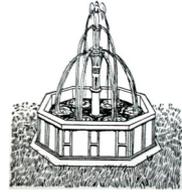

Best regards,
Bradford Lyon & Joanne Fuccello

This encyclopedia, written by British horticulturist and writer John Loudon, was originally published in 1829. A major revision was done in 1855 by his wife, and this edition is essentially the same as that one. The work was intended to aid in plant identification and is divided into two parts: plants arranged by the Linnaean system and those by the system of Jussieu. Descriptions include information on habit, duration in the garden, use of various structures such as greenhouse, dry stove, frames, etc., ornamental attributes, flowering time, color, native country, habitat and year of introduction, propagation and soil. A marvelous reference work with a tremendous amount of information - but bring your glasses for the small type! $300.00

129. Royal Horticultural Society - DICTIONARY OF GARDENING. A Practical and Scientific Encyclopaedia of Horticulture. Edited by Fred J. Chittenden. Second edition by Patrick M. Syngé. 4 volumes plus Supplement. Text figures. pp.xvi,2316: pp.vii,(2),334,(1). Cloth. Quarto. Oxford 1956: 1956. Oxford University Press. Long considered one of the premier horticultural reference books. The four-volume Dictionary of Gardening was first published in 1951, and the plan was to keep it up to date by publishing supplementary volumes every five years. However in 1956 this four-volume second edition was published; it was not reset, but it did include some corrections and its supplement, included here, was issued concurrently. The work aimed at "describing every plant suitable for cultivation in the British Isles both outdoors and under glass." In addition, there are articles on gardening operations and techniques, as well as definitions of botanical terms. With dust jackets. This set belonged to Mrs. J. E. Lockwood, the daughter of Mabel Cabot Sedgwick (author of The Garden Month by Month), with original sales slips made out to her laid in. The 5 volumes - $125.00

GARDENER'S & BOTANIST'S DICTIONARY

127. Miller, Philip - GARDENER'S & BOTANIST'S DICTIONARY; Containing the Best and Newest Methods of Cultivating and Improving the Kitchen, Fruit, and Flower Garden and Nursery; of Performing the Practical Parts of Agriculture; of Managing Vineyards, and of Propagating All Sorts of Timber Trees. By the Late Philip Miller... the Whole Corrected & Newly Arranged... by Thomas Martyn. "9th edition." Two volumes bound in four. 20 engraved plates by R. P. Nodder as follows: Vol.1 Part 1 with one plate of a pine stove plus 15 botanical plates; Vol.1 Part 2 with one plate of an ice house, one of a greenhouse and one of a conservatory; and Vol.2 Part 2 with a vinery plate. Unpaginated. Original full calf, spine with seven compartments, red and dark green morocco lettering pieces, armorial bookplate of Sir Archibald Grant of Monymoske [now Monymusk]. See Henrey #1114 for collation. Folio (16 5/8" tall x 10" wide). London [1795-]1807. F. C. & J. Rivington, et al.

Spines polished, joints rubbed. Mild red rot beginning on covers. Several leaves with early penciled notes that are close cropped with loss of some letters. Vol.1 rear cover with multiple small holes, one corner missing (not affecting text), Vol.3 front hinge cracked but held by all cords. Plates with mild foxing and some offsetting; text with occasional mild foxing. The former owner of the set, Sir Archibald Grant, 2nd Baronet (1696-1778), was a member of the House of Commons until he was expelled for having defrauded the Charitable Corporation after engaging in financial speculations using the Corporation's money. He was the author of two pamphlets on farming. VG-

Philip Miller (1691-1771) was the superintendent of the Chelsea Physick Garden and author of a very popular and extensive encyclopedia of plants, the Gardeners Dictionary. It which was first published in 1731, though it was preceded by his Gardeners and Florists Dictionary in 1724. The Gardeners Dictionary went through eight editions from 1731 through 1768. The eighth edition "applied Linnaeus's method entirely" (Henrey, Vol.3, p.91). After the author's death in 1771, the work was revised by Thomas Martyn, a botanist and professor at Cambridge, and published from 1795 to 1807 as The Gardener's and Botanist's Dictionary; it is sometimes identified as the "9th edition." Henrey quotes Gorham (Memoirs of... Thomas Martyn, 1830) as saying that this 9th edition was "an entirely new work, founded on Miller's as its basis." The dictionary, printed in two columns, is arranged alphabetically by plant, with entries giving botanical descriptions, habitat, propagation, culture and where available information on the place and date of introduction. It is full of information about plants of the early 19th century. The preface contains a synopsis of the earlier editions of the book and a discussion of Miller's horticultural publications. Martyn notes that Miller's earlier editions contained cultivated plants but that his revision includes all plants contained in Linnaeus' Systema Vegetabilium (except algae & fungi). A desirable edition, the first published after the author's death. $800.00

152. Wirt, Mrs. E. W., of Virginia - FLORA'S DICTIONARY. Contains an extra title page and presentation leaf both color-lithographed and printed by A. Hoen & Co., plus 6 hand-colored plates of bouquets, and numerous text drawings of flowers. Each text page printed within an elaborate floral border. pp.133,96. Original red cloth elaborately gilt-stamped on both covers with an illustration of a man and woman reading together. All edges gilt. 4to. (11 1/4" tall x 9" wide). Baltimore, MD, (1855). Lucas Brothers.

A good copy only. Soiled, joints rubbed, corners and spine worn, 1/4" piece gone from spine ends, chromolithographed title detached with edges chipped, elaborately calligraphed name of "Miss Sophia Percy Morris June 13, 1857" on fly. Plates mildly toned, text moderately foxed.

This is a later printing of this very popular language of flower book which was originally published in 1829. The first section gives the sentiments associated with each flower and includes poetry; it is arranged alphabetically. The second section gives botanical and historical information. The Presentation leaf is bound at the end of the introductory material between p.20 and p.21. Good copy of this popular work containing 8 color plates and bound in ornately stamped cloth. $200.00

Management, in Regard to Light, Heat and Air.* Frontispiece and 58 text figures. pp.vi,(7-)-366,(2-book adverts.). Original cloth. NY circa 1870's printing (c.1850). Published by Orange Judd.

Binding worn, spine faded, ends bumped, hinges cracked, leaves browning. Good.

The first U.S. book on greenhouses. The author, a "garden architect" working in Boston, notes in the preface that although "much information may be gleaned from various English works, they are either unobtainable, or the information is inapplicable to the wants of this country." Thus, the author decided to write this book. $35.00

164. Martin, Tovah - ONCE UPON A WINDOW-SILL. Over 70 b&w illustrations. pp.(2), 303. Cloth. 4to. Portland, OR (1988). The history of houseplants from the first bulbs brought in for forcing through the fern craze to the rise of blossoming tropicals. With much information on 19th century indoor gardening. Lists of period plants. Inscribed by the author. VG in VG DJ. $20.00

165. M'Intosh, Charles - GREENHOUSE, HOT HOUSE, & STOVE: Including Selected Lists of the Most Beautiful Species of Exotic Flowering Plants, and Directions for Their Cultivation. New edition. Colored half-title and 11 (of 17) hand-colored plates showing various flowers. Some text cuts. pp.vi,(1-list of plates), 415. Cloth sides, crudely re-backed. 12mo. London 1846 (c.1840). William S. Orr & Co. M'Intosh, the head gardener to the Duke of Buccleugh, issued a series of color plate books on the orchard, the flower garden, and this one, on greenhouse plants. The first edition of this greenhouse book was published in 1838 (which date appears on the half-title). He writes captivantly about various and sundry aspects of greenhouse gardening, inspiring the general gardener that s/he too can reach the "approximation of perfection" that professionals achieve when pursuing the cultivation of plants under glass. Unfortunately, a poor ex-library copy of this great resource, lacking 6 of the 17 plates and priced accordingly. Lacks front free endpaper. Several leaves and one plate detached, a number of edges chipped, half-title almost detached, edges gilt. Complete copies in good condition sell for around $300.00. $25.00

166 Palmer, F. E. - *MILADY'S HOUSE PLANTS. The Complete Instructor and Guide to Success with Flowers and Plants in the Home, including a Remarkable Chapter on the Ideal Sun Parlor.
